IN THE GULL NEST

A LOSER COMMENTS Scotty Glacken, Georgetown University's Head Coach, had some tart comments after his team was laced, 53-13, by the Sea Gulls.

"We knew Salisbury was good," he said. "We had heard at the start of the season that Juniata was ranked high up in national small college ratings. And we expected plenty when we met them. Unfortunately, we lost 27-0.

"However, I believe Salisbury is better than Juniata. They have a great offensive line and four great running backs.

"We were as well prepared for Salisbury as we could have been," he concluded, "but the college has a tremendous program."

A HEALTHY REPORT Salisbury State came out of the Georgetown game in healthy condition, Coach Yobst reported Monday. He expected the same starters to be ready for American University.

SCOUT DAY PLANNED The last game of the season next week will not only feature rival Towson State, but it will also be "Scout Day" at Wicomico Stadium. Both Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts will be coming to the game in uniform.

THIRD IN RUSH Salisbury State was ranked third in the country in rushing offense by the NAIA after the West Point Game.

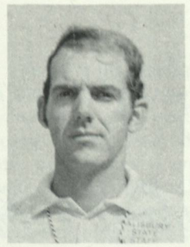
SEA GULL FOOTBALL COACHES

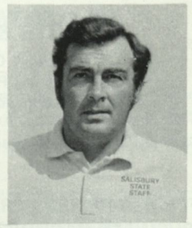


Directing the Gulls into the first year of varsity football is Head Football Coach Dick Yobst, a native of Oxon Hill, Md. He earned two letters in football and was co-captain of the Oxon Hill High team. He attended Western Maryland College where he earned a B.S. Degree in Physical Education in 1963. He lettered four years and earned the following honors: All Mason-Dixon Conference End for three years; All Middle Atlantic Conference player in 1962; All Maryland Small College Team in 1962; Methodist All-American in 1962; and Co-captain of his team in 1963.

During the 1963-64 year, Mr. Yobst was named soccer and gymnastics Coach at Taney Junior High School, Prince George's County, and was Assistant Football Coach and Junior Varsity Coach at Oxon Hill High. At the end of the year, Dick was awarded a Master of Arts Degree from George Washington University.

Yobst assumed his post as Head Football Coach and Assistant Track Coach at Bennett High in Salisbury in 1964. In addition to organizing the Bayside Conference, he was Chairman of District V Football Committee.

Dick was appointed Assistant Dean of Students in 1969, Dean of Men in 1970, and Associate Dean of Students in 1973. He was named Head Football Coach in December 1971.



Defensive Line Coach, M.P. Minton, who also serves as Associate Director of Admissions at Salisbury State College, is well known locally. "M.P." was Vice-Principal at Bennett Junior High for three years and Line Coach and Assistant Track Coach at Wicomico High for five years.

He received his Bachelor of Arts Degree in History from the University of Maryland in 1962 and his M.A. Degree in Public School Administration, also from Maryland in 1966. Minton previously attended Syracuse University from 1957 until 1958 and was a member of the undefeated Syracuse University freshmen team.

Since he has been at Salisbury State, "M.P." has helped organize the golf program and was appointed the first SSC Golf Coach in 1971.

Offensive Backfield Coach, Chet Hanulak, is a former professional football player with the Cleveland Browns. Chet was a star running back on the University of Maryland team in the early fifties and he was "All American" in 1953. He played for Maryland in the Sugar Bowl game in 1951, when the Terrapins defeated Tennessee 28-13, and he was also a member of the Terrapins in 1954, when they lost to Oklahoma, 7-0 in the Orange Bowl.

Drafted by the Cleveland Browns in 1954, Hanulak had a great year and was selected "Professional Rookie" of the year in NFL. He scored one touchdown for the Browns as they beat the Detroit Lions for the NFL Championship 57-14, and his best game was against the Pittsburgh Steelers when he scored three touchdowns.

Chet joined the Air Force as a Second Lt. and Personnel Officer in 1956 and he also played on and coached the Bolling Air Force team in 1955 and 1956. When he went back to civilian life in 1957, he returned to the Cleveland Browns. However, in 1957, he injured his knee and retired from professional football.

Hanulak is currently owner and manager of Super-Clean Car Wash on South Salisbury Blvd.

Defensive Coordinator Coach Mike McGlinchey, is a native of the State of Washington, but grew up at Newark, Delaware. He was a three letterman in football, wrestling and baseball at Newark High, and as a Junior, he won the State 103-pound championship in wrestling.

Attending the University of Delaware, Mr. McGlinchey earned six varsity letters – three in wrestling, and one each in football, soccer and baseball. In his senior year, he received the Outstanding Senior Athletic Award and the W.S. Red Tawes Award, presented to the most outstanding wrestler.

During his service career from 1967 to 1969, Mike won both the Fifth Army 191-pound wrestling championship, while at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri, and the U.S. Army European Comman 191-pound championship at Baumholder, Germany. He also played semi-pro baseball for four years.

Offensive Line Coach Mickey Kwiatkowski, who also is Assistant Director of Housing, is a native of Clifton Heights, Pa., and he received his B.A. and Master's degrees from the University of Delaware.

He taught at several Delaware area high schools while pursuing his Master's degree. Recently, Mr. Kwiatkowski was Chief of Instructor Training Branch of Instructor Methods Division of the Army Security Agency Training Center and School. Mr. Kwiatkowski served with the Army at Fort Devens (Mass.) as a Lieutenant.

At Clifton Heights High School, he earned three football letters and was captain of his team. He played as offensive guard on University of Delaware's team and was named to the offensive line of the All Middle Atlantic Conference Team as a senior. He also played in two Boardwalk Bowls at Atlantic City, New Jersey.

Mr. Kwiatkowski also coached the offensive freshmen line at Delaware and assisted for two years in coaching the varsity.

Deane Deshon came to Salisbury State in 1962 and he immediately began to build and rekindle the baseball and basketball programs. He began as physical education instructor and in 1971 was named Athletic Director.

A native of Maine, Mr. Deshon did his undergraduate work at the Maine Maritime Academy and University of Maine. He holds a M.A. degree from the University of Maryland.

With the number of varsity sports growing to ten over the past few years and the intramural program developing rapidly, the AD's task has become increasingly more difficult.

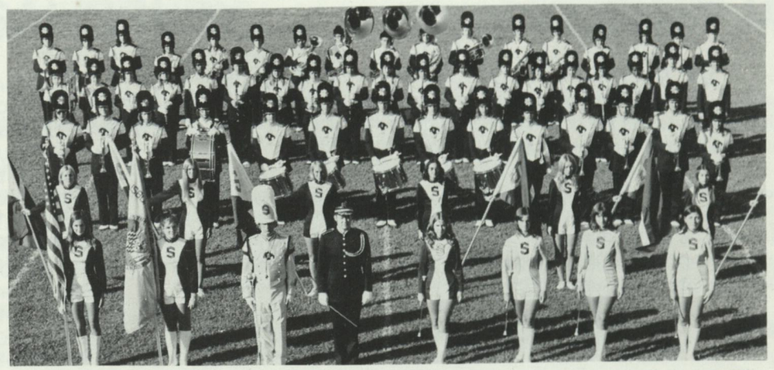
HOMECOMING THROUGH THE CENTURIES



Who can say exactly when graduates of colleges and universities started the annual return to their alma mater. Conceivably, the tradition may have originated during pre-historic times when naturally the only mode of transportation was walking. Using an awkward style of marching suggesting "Walking With a Waddle," the band, in small clusters representing various fraternities and sororities, begins its first annual trek back to old BCU (Before Christ University).

Prior to the invention of large vehicles, the most orderly way to transport groups of people was by marching regardless of whether it was a parade, a battle, or a dignified "grand" march. In Wagner's interpretation of 16th century German "song festivals," the opera "Die Meistersinger," some of the marching groups arriving for the contest were surely "alumni" of the various singing guilds participating in the day's activities. The band marches across the field to the "Grand March" from the above opera.

Imagine if you will the wild gypsies of Southern Russia and their rousing folk dances as they traversed the country, possibly renewing old acquaintances of past years, another benefit of homecoming. The highlight of one of these annual gatherings was undoubtedly the virile young man who danced with the gypsy swords. Using the Russian composer Khachaturian's dashing "Sabre Dance" as a background, the band features a lovely young lady, Denise Wilson, from Baltimore County in a modern "dance of the swords."

In the 1860's, numerous homecoming-bound revelers waited on the banks of the Mississippi River for that special riverboat which would take them to the hallowed halls of higher education in the heartland of our country, the Robert E. Lee. With flags flying and paddlewheel churning, the band announces the arrival of . . . . . not the Robert E. Lee . . . . . but the S. S. Sea Gull.

Suddenly, here we are today, celebrating SSC's 45th Annual Homecoming. In all the intervening years from the first in 1927 to today, each person attending arrived on campus partly if not completely through the use of a petroleum-propelled vehicle. In honor of that natural resource which enables each of us to travel great distances to such an event as today's, the band adds a little "highbrow" and concludes with their version of the popular tune "Classical Gas."

THE SCHOOL The American University is one of five universities located in the District of Columbia. It occupies 66 acres in residential northwest Washington and was founded in 1893 by Methodist Bishop John Fletcher Hurst to provide an institution for graduate-level study in the nation's capital. The undergraduate College of Liberal Arts (now the College of Arts and Sciences) was established in 1925.

In succeeding years, the University grew with the addition of the Washington College of Law in 1949, the School of Business Administration in 1955, the School of Government and Public Administration in 1957, the School of International Service in 1958, the Lucy Webb Hayes School of Nursing in 1965, and the College of Continuing Education in 1965. In 1972 the College of Public Affairs was established, embracing four existing areas of the University: the School of International Service, the School of Government and Public Administration, the Center for the Administration of Justice, and the Center for Technology and Administration.

PUBLIC AFFAIRS EMPHASIS: In 1969, the American University, in a Statement of Mission, chose to emphasize the social sciences and public affairs while maintaining strengths in the liberal arts. The College of Public Affairs offers undergraduate programs that are unusually well-developed and intensive. Special institutes and the Washington Semester programs offer opportunities for those interested in political, international, and societal affairs. The School of Business Administration and the School of Nursing offer professionally-related programs, and programs in the College of Arts and Sciences maintain the liberal arts essential to any university.

There's probably no better place to study public affairs. Washington is a natural laboratory, not only for studies related to the government and its workings, but also for those related to the metropolitan environment. In addition to being a government town, there are five universities in the District and a number of smaller colleges in the metropolitan area. Washington is also a cultural town: the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts is in its third season, and there are regular seasons of repertory theatre, concerts and shows, several major art museums, and government archives and libraries.

The American University, like many universities, has revised its curriculum and graduation requirements. Gone are the traditional "distribution courses." Students take four courses per semester, which are designed to be intensive; and they may take courses pass-fail in non-major areas and may design an interdisciplinary major program.

Students have full voting membership on the University Senate, along with faculty and administrators, and are members of Senate committees. They participate in policy-making bodies at the departmental and school levels.

THE FOOTBALL TEAM: American University is in its third year of club football. In 1971, the team posted a record of 3-4 and last year had a 3-5 slate. This season the team defeated Catholic University 9-8 and Steubenville (Ohio) College, 20-0. A tie resulted next with North Carolina University's club team, 0-0, and American University lost its only contest, 26-6, to Bowie State. Successive wins were over Allegheny (Pittsburgh) College, 20-6, and Gallaudet College, 21-8.

With a record of 4-1-1, AU has a fine chance for a winning season with only games left with Salisbury, D.C. Teachers and Virginia Commonwealth.

Players to watch on American University are Fullback Cliff Jenks (6-2, 205) who is averaging 4.8 yards per carry over the season and has run up over 100 yards in two games and had 90 yards in a third.

On defense, American University is led by 2 club All-Americans, Dave Rosen and Jim Embersits.

The Academic Side

SALISBURY STATE'S SPACE PROGRAM

Astronaut Charles M. Duke, Jr., Apollo 16 lunar module pilot, stands beside the Lunar Roving Vehicle (LRV) at Station 4, near Stone Mountain, during the mission's second extravehicular activity (EVA-2) on April 22, 1972. . . . Photos like this are studied in Salisbury State's Apollo Program.

This fall Salisbury State College instituted a new academic program – Special Topics in Physical Science: The Apollo Program – which has created interest throughout the Eastern Shore. Enrollment hit a figure of 22 students with an additional 15 persons sitting in on the course.

Attending are persons from as far away as St. Michaels and they attend classes on Saturday mornings for two hours of lecture and relative NASA films.

The course has included one field trip to the Goddard Space Flight Center, where students were shown back-up satellites from earliest space explorations and models of present satellites.

The course is designed for the community as a whole and anyone is welcome. Class location is Devilbiss Science Hall on Saturdays between 9 and 12 noon.

Dr. Isidor Adler, Senior Scientist at Goddard Space Flight Center, is the teacher. Dr. Adler designed the X-ray fluorescence equipment which is used on Apollo 15 and 16 to map the chemical composition of the lunar surface.

DEVELOPMENT OF ATHLETIC TRAINING

Athletic Training is an auxillary function of medicine. It involves the prevention and care of injuries associated with competitive athletics and is under the supervision of Hunter Smith. Hunter is a certified member of the National Athletic Trainers Association and served as a student trainer at Wesley College and Florida State University as well as an assistant trainer for the Miami Dolphins and Tennessee Technological University. Working under his supervision are John Balderson, Doug Huffman, Bill Hoff, and Steve Pesature, all student members of the NATA.

Each one of these young men works with all of the athletic teams at SSC. John Balderson, a senior, serves most of his time with the football and wrestling teams and hopes to gain a position as an assistant trainer after this year. Doug Huffman, a graduate student, serves most of his time with the soccer, football, and basketball teams and also hopes to become an assistant or head trainer next year. Two new additions to SSC's athletic training staff this year are Bill Hoff and Steve Pesature. Bill Hoff is from Bel-Aire, Md., and works with the football, cross country, wrestling, and track teams. Steve Pesature is from New York City and works with the soccer, football, wrestling, and baseball teams.

Each day the trainers look at a variety of injuries, care for and rehabilitate injuries, and attempt to prevent as many injuries as possible. Their many hours this summer setting up water breaks during double sessions of football practice helped establish a perfect record of no heat exhaustion cases. Their having to wrap and tape a variety of injuries will consume 25 miles of tape a year. And their chance to travel with athletic teams to a variety of places as the trainer in charge will enable them to recognize and take charge of injury situations. All of these activities coupled with the work and supervision of the SSC Team Physicians, Dr. Henry Briele and Dr. Chris Mitchell, enable the athletic department at Salisbury State to be well taken care of throughout the school year.
